

Rural Voices: On-air dialogues with the people behind your plate

9 November | 13:00 CET | 12 noon GMT

Helene Papper

Director of Global Communications, IFAD

Hélène is Director of Global Communications, responsible for internal and external communication strategies and operations. Previously, she was Director of the United Nations Information Center for Colombia, Ecuador and Venezuela. She is a conflict and post-conflict strategist with extensive experience in the field of diplomacy, advocacy and communications. She previously worked in UN peacekeeping missions developing radio stations to support electoral and peace implementation processes, and providing platforms for women's and youth's voices.

Kevin Perkins

Executive Director, Farm Radio International

Kevin is the executive director of Farm Radio International, which he has led since 2006. His work in international and community development includes stints at Canadian Physicians for Aid and Relief (CPAR) where he led their international programs, and in his own neighbourhood in Toronto, establishing the ACCESS Riverdale Community Loan Fund and the Riverdale Community Development Corporation.

Angeline Munzara

Livelihoods Global Sector Lead, World Vision International

Angeline provides global leadership for livelihoods practitioners implementing World Vision's community empowering project models. She has built an in-depth understanding and expertise about women's economic empowerment, environment and climate change, as well as agriculture and food security with over 17 years' experience in the field. She is currently the Global Chair for the Food and Agriculture Organization's International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture Compliance Committee.

IFAD at COP26

Laura Sewell

Senior Representative for Canada for Mercy Corps

Laura is Senior Representative for Canada for Mercy Corps, and has been working in international cooperation and humanitarian assistance for 15 years. She has extensive experience designing and implementing gender-responsive programming. Laura is representing the Canadian Food Security Policy Group, a network that engages in joint advocacy, research, and policy dialogue to promote inclusive, environmentally sustainable, and coherent development policies.

Neal Spackman

CEO, Regenerative Resources Company

Neal is the founder & CEO of Regenerative Resources Company, an enterprise that creates circular regenerative economies by transforming degraded land into productive agroecologies. Prior to founding Regenerative Resources, he was cofounder and director of the Al Baydha Project in Saudi Arabia. He is an alumnus of the Stanford Graduate School of Business.