

SESSION 2 | 2 NOVEMBER 2021

COVID-19 LEARNING SERIES

GEI
Global Evaluation
Initiative

COVID-19 GLOBAL
Evaluation Coalition

Evaluating interventions for COVID-19 response and recovery: What have we learned?

This session will outline the ethical, conceptual, and methodological challenges for designing and implementing evaluations in times of COVID as well as some potential solutions. On the basis of concrete examples, the panelists will discuss some of the practical solutions that were implemented to address data collection constraints, as well as some of the innovations that were explored to strengthen the evidence base of evaluations.

REGISTRATION DETAILS

2 November 2021, 9:00 – 10:00, CEST, GMT (+1)
Registration Link on Zoom | EN and FR

2 November 2021, 15:00 – 16:00, CEST, GMT (+1)
Registration Link on Zoom | EN and FR

Session Facilitator

Jos Vaessen
Methods Advisor,
Independent Evaluation
Group (IEG)

Session Speakers

Albert Tuyishime
Head of HIV/AIDS, Diseases
Prevention and Control
Department at Rwanda
Biomedical Centre

Fabrizio Felloni
Deputy Director,
Independent Office of Evaluation of IFAD

KEY QUESTIONS

- > What have we learned about designing and conducting evaluations in times of COVID-19?
- > Going forward what will the 'new normal' look like?